

The RIMES Benchmark Data Service<sup>SM</sup>

Fully managed feeds for index and benchmark data

The quality of a firm's index and benchmark data is a corollary of success. But benchmark data management is complex and costly. Firms need to source a huge volume of data that must then be validated, quality assured, and transformed for use in multiple operational systems. Firms that do this with error-prone manual processes put the quality of their data at risk and waste precious resources focusing on a non-core tasks when their time could be better spent on finding alpha.

The RIMES Benchmark Data Service

The RIMES Benchmark Data Service (RIMES BDS<sup>SM</sup>) is a fully managed data service for sourcing, validating, transforming, distributing, and storing index and benchmark data.

It enables investment managers, owners, and pension funds to maximize operational efficiency and scalability, improve data quality, and minimize the internal costs of data management while limiting operational and regulatory risks, and maintaining full control.
